

National Service in California

MEETING COMMUNITY NEEDS IN CALIFORNIA

More than 23,000 people of all ages and backgrounds are helping to meet local needs, strengthen communities, and increase civic engagement through national service in California. Serving at more than 3,200 locations throughout the state, these citizens tutor and mentor children, support veterans and military families, provide health services, restore the environment, respond to disasters, increase economic opportunity, and recruit and manage volunteers.

This year, the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) will commit more than $128,530,000 to support California communities through national service and social innovation initiatives. CNCS invests in cost-effective community solutions--working hand in hand with local partners to improve lives, expand economic opportunity, and engage citizens in solving problems in their communities. Serving in many of the state's most impoverished communities, CNCS provides vital support to schools, food banks, homeless shelters, community health clinics, youth centers, veterans service facilities, and other nonprofit and faith-based organizations at a time of growing demand for services. Through a unique public-private partnership, this federal investment will leverage an additional $91,020,000 in other resources to strengthen community impact, build local support, and increase return on taxpayer dollars. Nationwide, CNCS, its grantees, and project sponsors generated more than $1.25 billion in outside resources from businesses, foundations, public agencies, and other sources in FY 2015.

AmeriCorps: This year AmeriCorps will provide more than 7,800 individuals the opportunity to provide intensive, results-driven service to meet education, environmental, health, economic, and other pressing needs in communities across California. Most AmeriCorps grant funding goes to the California Volunteers, which in turn awards grants to nonprofit groups to respond to local needs. Most of the remainder of the grant funding is distributed by CNCS directly to multi-state and national organizations through a competitive grants process. Other individuals serve through AmeriCorps VISTA, whose members help bring individuals and communities out of poverty by serving full-time to fight hunger and illiteracy, improve health services, and increase housing opportunities, and AmeriCorps NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps), a 10-month, full time residential program for men and women between the ages of 18 and 24. In exchange for their service, AmeriCorps members earn an education award that can be used to pay for college or to pay back qualified student loans. Since 1994, more than 130,000 California residents have served more than 160 million hours and have qualified for Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards totaling more than $392,060,000.

Senior Corps: More than 15,000 seniors in California contribute their time and talents in one of three Senior Corps programs. Foster Grandparents serve one-on-one as tutors and mentors to more than 6,500 young people who have special needs. Senior Companions help more than 2,500 homebound seniors and other adults maintain independence in their own homes. RSVP volunteers conduct safety patrols, renovate homes, protect the environment, tutor and mentor youth, respond to natural disasters, and provide other services through more than 1,200 groups across California.

Social Innovation Fund: The Social Innovation Fund transforms lives and communities using limited federal investment as a catalyst to grow the impact of nonprofits with evidence of strong results. It harnesses the expertise of grantmaking intermediaries to identify, evaluate and expand effective nonprofits and engages funding partners to contribute nearly three dollars to every one federal dollar invested. As the Social Innovation Fund network grows programs that work in California, more people are able to overcome their most pressing challenges in the areas of economic opportunity, health, and youth development. The Social Innovation Fund is investing more than $14,330,000 in expanding the impact of 50 nonprofits in California, selected and supported by 5 intermediaries.

The Corporation for National and Community Service is a federal agency that improves lives, strengthens communities, and fosters civic engagement through service and volunteering. CNCS engages millions of Americans in service to meet local needs through Senior Corps, AmeriCorps, and national days of service; improves communities through the Social Innovation Fund, and leads volunteer initiatives across the nation. Notes: The data shown represents a snapshot in time. CNCS project sites, participants, and funding change throughout the year, so the data may not reflect current conditions.

- This figure represents the number of awarded positions available to be filled in the 2016 - 2017 program year. For AmeriCorps VISTA, this represents the actual number of VISTA members in active service.
- This figure represents the maximum potential value of Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards that can be earned by AmeriCorps members serving in California. The award can be used in any state to pay for college, graduate school, vocational training, or to pay back student loans. The education award total is included in total CNCS funding.
- AmeriCorps National figures may include national programs headquartered in the state and/or operating sites of national programs that are headquartered in other states. Funding reflects the estimated proportionate share of the national grant associated with operating sites in this report. Some national organizations do not report operating site data, or it was not available at time of publishing, so figures may not reflect current conditions.
- California is home to the Pacific Region campus of AmeriCorps NCCC, located in Sacramento. Members based at this campus perform service projects throughout California and AK, HI, ID, MT, NV, OR, UT, WA, WY and the Pacific Territories.
- The service location total may contain multiple counts of unique locations where multiple CNCS programs are operating.
- As part of its public-private partnership approach, CNCS requires grantees to leverage additional resources to strengthen community impact and increase the return on the federal investment. This figure reflects non-CNCS cash and in-kind resources that CNCS grantees and project sponsors have committed to raise or other revenue used to support their programming activities across the state. Last year, CNCS, its grantees, and project sponsors generated more than $1.25 billion in outside resources from businesses, foundations, public agencies, and other sources.

Since 1994, more than 130,000 California residents have served more than 160 million hours and have qualified for Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards totaling more than $392,060,000.

State Commission

In 2014-15 AmeriCorps brought meaningful service to nearly 900 service locations across California. Collectively, 41 AmeriCorps State programs in partnerships with over 800 public and private organizations supported nearly 3,000 AmeriCorps members whose services positively impacted the lives of more than 72,000 economically disadvantaged Californians. In the area of education AmeriCorps services resulted in 13,324 of the 23,648 (56%) students tutored and/or mentored (who completed program participation) demonstrating significant academic gains and/or engagement. AmeriCorps member services further resulted in: 20,000 vulnerable individuals received disaster preparedness education; 10,685 homeless individuals and veterans connected to critical resources; 5,955 parents received child abuse and prevention services; and 152 public agencies and non-profit organizations reporting improved organizational effectiveness or increase implementation of effective volunteer management practices as a result of AmeriCorps member service activities.

AmeriCorps State

First 5 Service AmeriCorps members provide school readiness services to economically disadvantaged children ages 2 to 5 years in fifteen California counties. In 2014-2015, 98 AmeriCorps members provided one-to-one and small group instruction using evidence-based curricula to 3,446 children. At the end of the program year, 66 percent of the 2,114 children who received a dosage of 35 hours of instruction demonstrated gains in school readiness in terms of literacy skills and met age appropriate developmental milestones for school readiness. AmeriCorps members leveraged an additional 1,197 volunteers to support school readiness activities. The program's quasi-experimental evaluation completed for the 2012-2014 grant cycle affirms that its integrated approach of high quality evidence-based preschool programming, meaningful parental education and engagement, and providing children's literature for at-home use is effective to achieve improved school readiness. First 5 Service Corps is a program of the California Children and Families Foundation implemented by the Prevent Child Abuse California organization based in Sacramento.

Each year millions of Californians are unrepresented in their family law, civil, or small claims cases. California JusticeCorps assists those community members—who are often low-income or non-native English speakers—by placing AmeriCorps members to assist in self-help legal access centers across California. In 2014-2015, 280 AmeriCorps members provided 114,727 instances of assistance to thousands of self-represented litigants. Each “instance of assistance” by AmeriCorps members means people received critical information, had more time to prepare for eviction, judgments were reached, forms were translated for non-English speaking litigants, and so much more. Through this service, access to justice is increased for the community and people are able to move to a place of greater stability in their lives after their cases are resolved. California JusticeCorps is supported by a strong collaborative where all facets of a community, from executive, judicial to local governments, come together with nonprofits to bring resources and efforts to address a pressing statewide need.

AmeriCorps National

Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Jose/Silicon Valley have 513 City Year AmeriCorps members who serve full-time at 46 schools, helping more than 39,550 students at greatest risk of dropping out. City Year AmeriCorps members work alongside teachers, using research-based tools to improve students' attendance, behavior, and performance in math and English. The members also lead afterschool programs and school-wide initiatives to improve school culture. In Los Angeles, 62 percent of middle and high school students who had intensive support from a City Year AmeriCorps member ended the year with a C or better in English Language Arts. In San Jose, 94 percent of students who had literacy tutoring and 91 percent of students who had math tutoring improved on state assessments, and 95 percent of teachers said the members improved overall student academic performance. In Sacramento, 80 percent of teachers agree that AmeriCorps members have a positive impact on schools and 90 percent of principals agree that City Year's after-school programs foster a positive learning environment.

Citizen Schools is a nonprofit organization that partners with middle schools to expand the learning day for children in low-income communities. Its AmeriCorps members serve at public schools in Oakland and San Jose, leading real-world learning projects, providing academic support, and helping all students discover and achieve their dreams. In their two years of service, the AmeriCorps members serve as Teaching Fellows, giving students months of extra learning through academic mentoring and skill-building apprenticeships that translate into college readiness and career opportunities. Citizen Schools has been recognized as a leader in engaging volunteers, generating student impact, and balancing direct service with systemic change efforts. Students who are supported by Citizen Schools graduated from high school within four years at a rate of 71 percent, compared to 59 percent among matched peers, and 61 percent of Citizen Schools' alumni enroll in college.

College Advising Corps has 20 AmeriCorps members serving full-time as college advisors at 14 high schools in Los Angeles, Long Beach, and Garden Grove. These members are placed in underserved high schools and work to increase the number of low-income, first-generation, and underrepresented students who enter and complete higher education. The AmeriCorps members provide the counsel and encouragement that students need to navigate the college admissions process. They help students plan their college searches, complete admissions and financial aid applications, and enroll at schools that will serve them well. In 2015, these 20 members served 4,200 students. They held 6,876 one-to-one meetings with students and met with 9,069 students in group meetings. They helped 574 seniors register for the SAT or ACT and helped 2,217 seniors submit 9,441 college applications.

As California drought/deluge weather pattern has deepened, wildfires and floods have become big challenges. Conservation Corps North Bay's Natural Resources Program, which serves Marin and Sonoma counties, has responded by reducing fire fuels on public lands and managing vegetation in streambeds that can flood in heavy rains. The program deployed 30 AmeriCorps members to reduced fire fuels on 64 acres of public lands and prevent flooding in 6 miles of streambeds.

Civicorps, in the Oakland and East Bay Area, serves youth who are disconnected from their community. Civicorps provides appropriate work within the community, and operates many community engagement activities on- and off-site. Civicorps also hosts member events so the youth who are being served in the program have an opportunity to become more connected to each other. More than 75 percent of the youth who have been served through Civicorps feel greater connected with their community and their peers, according to pre- and post-participation surveys.

The young women and men of the California Conservation Corps work hard to protect and restore California's environment and responding to disasters, and become stronger workers, citizens, and individuals through their service. A third of the Corps' AmeriCorps members are economically disadvantaged and unemployed when they join the program. Of the members who participated in post-Corps tracking, 70.8 percent found a job within a year of leaving the program. The program operates sites in Redding, Chico, Siskiyou, Ukiah, Napa, Greenwood, Stockton, Fresno, Fortuna, Placer, Sacramento, San Diego, North County, Inland Empire, Pomona, Tahoe, Los Padres, Santa Maria, Monterey Bay Operations Center, Camarillo, Los Angeles, and Tent Camps.

FoodCorps has 15 AmeriCorps members serving in Calaveras County, Chico, Clearlake, Grass Valley, Los Angeles, Oakland, Pittsburg, San Diego, Santa Cruz, Sonoma County, Thousand Oaks, Ventura, and Watsonville. FoodCorps is a nationwide team of AmeriCorps leaders who work under the direction of local partner organizations to connect children to real food and help them grow up healthy. They teach children hands-on lessons about food and nutrition build and tend school gardens, teach cooking lessons, and help change what's on lunch trays so that children can eat healthy food from local farms. In the past year, the FoodCorps members in California served 21,633 children, built or brought back into use 19 school and community gardens, harvested 4,990 pounds of produce, and recruited 560 community volunteers.

New Sector AmeriCorps members in the AmeriCorps RISE program complete high-impact capacity-building projects for organizations in the San Francisco area that focus on education and economic opportunity. Their service helps local nonprofits with projects ranging from volunteer engagement to performance measurement and beyond, and allows the nonprofits to create, improve, or expand services to their community. In the past year, 23 New Sector AmeriCorps members completed projects to strengthen organizations that serve more than 40,000 children and 3,500 low-income residents. The AmeriCorps members participated in up to 200 hours of training, mentorship, and coaching to strengthen their service and help them continue to serve through careers in the social impact sector.

Up2Us Sports' Coach Across America program trained and placed 29 members in Los Angeles in the past year. The members coached and led sports-based programming. They used mentoring and youth development skills to help young people learn life skills and improve health through sports. They served 3,520 youth – mostly minority youth from low-income families – at 15 host sites. At the end of the program, 83 percent of the youth were at a healthy fitness level for their age an improvement from only 70 percent of the youth at the beginning of the program. Additionally, 90 percent of the youth improved in one or more positive internal attributes that contribute to healthy decision-making, and 87 percent of youth reported that their coach was a good role model. This program is effective because it uses sports to engage under-represented populations into AmeriCorps roles and inspire in them a longer-term commitment to service. After they complete their service, half of the AmeriCorps member coaches plan to pursue careers and/or higher education in recreation or health fields.

AmeriCorps VISTA

California State University (CSU) VISTA members mobilize university and community resources for traditionally underrepresented students (students of color, low-income, first-generation, and women) to aspire to, excel in, and complete degrees in STEM fields through internships, service-learning courses, and undergraduate research. In the first year, the VISTAs recruited and managed 1,721 STEM and 131 non-STEM students who served 55,515 hours; expanded its services to 286 partners, including 85 K-12 schools, 22 nonprofits, eight government agencies, and 159 businesses; served 2,426 CSU STEM, 228 CSU non-STEM, and 6,415 K-12 students; offered 3,215 participants 598 hours of training at 303 events; facilitated community assessments for 23 organizations; and supported and/or helped implement seven new service-learning courses, 65 internships, 189 undergraduate research opportunities, and three learning communities. CCE staff designed and implemented a training plan that included a team-building retreat, orientation program, and a year-long professional development curriculum.

School on Wheels, a nonprofit serving Los Angeles and the surrounding counties, began an AmeriCorps VISTA project in 2013 in order to more effectively achieve its mission of enhancing the educational opportunities for homeless children in Kindergarten through 12th grade. Members have worked in a variety of roles including facilitating new partnerships, designing improved curriculum and outcome measures, implementing digital learning, and increasing individual contributions through marketing and development activities. Through the work of the VISTA members, School on Wheels provided 620 students with access to adaptive computer programs, and of these students, 96.7 percent showed academic improvements after six months of use. An additional 156 students received one-on-one tutoring from 50 virtual volunteers recruited and trained as part of a new online tutoring program. The members helped secure a $57,000 grant from the Gesner Johnson Family Foundation to establish a digital learning center at the Skid Row site. The curriculum and outcomes VISTA members created include a set of assessments and curriculum aligned with the common core and designed to fill in the gaps in students' education. The VISTAs have been instrumental in partnering with over 18 nonprofits and 15 corporations. Earlier in 2015, the VISTA focusing on partnerships competed in the Social Ventures Partners' Fast Pitch sponsored by the American Honda Foundation and won First place and the Power of Dreams Award, totaling $27,000 in awards for School on Wheels. VISTAs focusing on marketing and fundraising helped raise over $630,000 in cash and in-kind donations to support the School on Wheels program. In addition to these four full-time VISTA positions, six VISTA Summer Associates provided tutoring for 156 students at the Skid Row learning center, chaperoned eight field trips, and collaborated with the students to organize a talent show. All of the VISTA members have increased the capacity and enhanced the programs of Schools on Wheels.

AmeriCorps NCCC

The Tuolumne River Trust worked with an AmeriCorps NCCC team on recovery projects from the 2013 Rim Fire. To support the recovery efforts, NCCC members removed unwanted brush and exotic vegetation across three acres of land to prevent the spread of future fires and constructed, repaired, and restored irrigation systems. Members also thinned and trimmed pines while serving with the Tuolumne Trails camp for the disabled. In addition, the team installed informative signs, facilitated workshops about sustainability, and helped restore three miles of riverbed. To engage students, the team provided presentations on the Rim Fire Recovery efforts at several schools in the impacted community. The Rim Fire was the third largest wildfire in California's history and the projects NCCC members completed were vital in preparing the area for the upcoming fire season and ensuring that facilities were safe.

In partnership with Camp Fire USA Inland Southern California, an AmeriCorps NCCC team provided operational and program support at Camp Nawakwa and Camp Blue Sky. The team completed infrastructure improvements around Camp Nawakwa and acted as counselors at both camps. At Camp Blue Sky, NCCC members served at two sites to assist 80 at-risk students that live in mobile home parks. They conducted summer programs for the youth at Camp Blue Sky and at Camp Nawakwa. At Camp Nawakwa, the team cleared brush surrounding 30 buildings to create a firebreak. Members unloaded 3,000 pounds of food and served 36 meals to more than 200 campers and staff in the Camp Nawakwa dining hall and by Jenks Lake. Members cleaned out an attic above the dining hall, trained 35 community youth leaders at the staff training for Camp Nawakwa, and counseled 120 children. More than 80 children had places to go to have fun and learn about nature, and the camps were made safer and more easily accessible thanks to the NCCC members.

Senior Corps Foster Grandparent Program

There is abundant research indicating that third grade reading proficiency is correlated with later academic success and also predictive of whether a student will graduate from high school. In San Diego County, 51 percent of the children attending 3rd grade are reading below basic grade level. The Catholic Charities, Diocese of San Diego Foster Grandparent Program addressed this issue by placing 24 Foster Grandparents at eight elementary schools in geographic areas with high poverty rates. The Foster Grandparents were trained and matched with 2-3 children who were identified as reading below grade level. They utilized "Everyone a Reader" research-informed instructional curriculum to help students reach their grade-level in reading. Outcome data provided by the individual sites and teachers revealed that 77 percent of the children showed satisfactory-to-good progress in test scores with a final performance outcome of 71 percent reaching grade level proficiency. In total, the Catholic Charities of San Diego Foster Grandparent Program engaged 98 Foster Grandparents in mentoring and education-related activities benefitting over 330 children and youth.

Senior Corps RSVP

North Coast Opportunities RSVP volunteers are playing a major role in responding to the widely varied needs of local residents in the wake of several devastating wildfires in Lake County in Northern California that have consumed more than 268 square miles, 21 percent of Lake County's total land area since late July. The fires have caused more than $2 billion in damage, left at least 1,400 families homeless, destroyed hundreds of other buildings, and left behind hazy skies, charred landscapes, and devastated lives to mark one of the worst fire seasons in memory. As of the end of October, over 150 RSVP volunteers have served more than 2,000 fire victims in a variety of disaster recovery and mitigation activities including removal of debris, assisting disaster victims housed in temporary emergency shelters and encampments, offering peer counseling, distributing food and emergency funding, and collecting donations.

Senior Corps Senior Companion Program

California State University-Chico Senior Companion Program in Chico has forged an effective collaboration with a local Adult Day Health Center (ADHC). The Senior Companions have provided resource information to the project's 201 clients regarding ADHC services. This outreach has resulted in three Senior Companion clients enrolling in ADHC during the last year. The ADHC case manager contributes to the collaboration by screening attendees for possible matches with Senior Companions. Senior Companions coordinate their home visit schedules with shared clients to maximize the benefit from both programs. For example, a client who attends ADHC on Mondays and Fridays is scheduled for their Senior Companion home visits on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Some ADHC attendees live in rural areas outside of the transportation service zone provided by the center's van. In response to this need, Senior Companions drive two clients to and from the center each week. Due to their frailty, ADHC clients are at high risk for institutionalization. Integrating ADHC and Senior Companion services maximizes these client's ability to remain in their own homes.

Social Innovation Fund

The Social Innovation Fund (SIF) is investing $3,371,097 to expand the impact of 40 nonprofits in California. In 2015, 14 subgrantees were added to the SIF portfolio in California. The SIF programs use innovative approaches to address issues including homelessness, job training, youth literacy, and more. In 2015, SIF subgrantees served 2,212 individuals through the LISC Financial Opportunity Centers and placed a total of 564 people in jobs and increasing the net worth of 497 individuals.

Today's nonprofits face challenges that extend far beyond meeting the needs of their community and clients. Delivering on a mission means cross-sector collaboration, volunteer management, fundraising, performance measurement, and more. To meet these challenges, many nonprofits are turning to Service Enterprise, a strategy that helps nonprofits build their capacity and increase their community impact by maximizing their effective use of volunteers. Supported by the Volunteer Generation Fund, CaliforniaVolunteers and its seven local volunteer-center partners transformed and certified 68 nonprofits using the Service Enterprise model in FY 2014-15. Additionally, 43 organizations reported that capacity building helped make them more effective, 54 organizations implemented effective volunteer management practices, and 29,425 volunteers were managed by organizations or participants who contributed more than 1.8 million hours of service. To this end, a revised certification process was launched by partner, Points of Light, which focuses on common standards for planning and development, leadership support, and effective training; and general standards for the remaining characteristics. CaliforniaVolunteers also completed the survey administration portion of a prison research project aimed at measuring volunteerism inside the state prison system. A total of 1,531 inmates, 500 staff members, and roughly 200 volunteers were surveyed.

Intermediary Grantmakers in California

Location	Intermediary Name Nonprofit Subgrantees	Description
Oakland, CA	National Council on Crime and Delinquency <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Community Advocates, Inc. in Milwaukee, WI • City of New Haven, CT in New Haven, CT • The Children's Initiative in San Diego, CA • The San Diego Foundation in San Diego, CA 	National Council on Crime and Delinquency (NCCD) is helping entities determine the feasibility of using Pay for Success (PFS) to promote positive youth development interventions that focus on 1) improving outcomes for juvenile justice or child welfare system-involved youth or youth at risk of entering or crossing over into these systems, and 2) addressing high rates of racial disparity in these systems.
San Francisco, CA	REDF (2010)	REDF is the only intermediary in the country that provides grants and technical assistance exclusively to nonprofit social enterprises that employ low-income people with multiple barriers to employment, including, dislocated youth, individuals who have been homeless or incarcerated, and those with severe mental illness. Through the SIF grants, REDF will: Employ at least 2,500 low-income young people and adults with multiple barriers to employment in nonprofit social enterprises (a figure that will expand to 8,000 by 2020 as enterprises achieve sustainability); Expand their work to include multiple low-income communities in California, such as Fresno, Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Diego; Conduct a rigorous Social Return on Investment (SROI) analysis and impact analysis to quantify the effect of social enterprises on employee income, receipt of public and employer benefits, education, taxes and incarceration; and Produce a growth plan and guide for replication that will inform both the expansion of REDF and the social enterprise model, with the goal of employing tens of thousands of people in the identified target population throughout the U.S.

Stanford, CA	Stanford University ADP	The Stanford Center on Poverty and Inequality (CPI) and Third Sector Capital Partners ("Third Sector") have joined together for the Social Innovation Fund's Pay for Success Administrative Data Pilot. The proposed program will improve the quality of the evidence used to evaluate PFS initiatives. Although administrative data are the gold standard for many types of program evaluation, they have not been well incorporated into the PFS movement because providers cannot easily access administrative data or do not have the expertise to analyze them. We address these problems by combining the CPI's strength in accessing and analyzing administrative data in California and Oregon with the Third Sector's familiarity with the 20 ongoing and planned PFS projects in those states. We propose to focus initially on projects addressing economic opportunity because the CPI has substantial contacts and resources in that focus area and because there are a large number of ongoing PFS projects within it. The program described here (a) delivers a well-publicized competition for government and provider Service Recipients, (b) selects promising PFS projects that will benefit from administrative data, (c) ensures that the many hurdles in accessing administrative data are overcome in a timely way, (d) provides ongoing technical assistance to the Service Recipients, and (e) builds a training program and resource center that will allow PFS initiatives to incorporate administrative data successfully. The proposal is supported by a one-to-one $1.5M non-federal cash match of requested CNCS funds.

San Diego, CA	San Diego Housing Commission Corporation for Supportive Housing (2014)	CSH and its partners, the Center for Health Care Strategies and Third Sector Capital Partners, are working with the San Diego Housing Commission to assess the feasibility of a PFS initiative focused on creating supportive housing for vulnerable populations. Specifically, this project will target chronically homeless individuals with multiple emergency room and hospital admissions and a combination of identified high risk conditions. This project will target the city of San Diego. SDHC is one of 39 Public Housing Agencies with a Moving to Work designation within the United States. Due in part to the flexibility afforded through this designation, in addition to traditional tenant-based vouchers, the Commission partners with numerous local non-profit partners and landlords to provide rental subsidies through the use of sponsor-based and project-based rental vouchers.

San Francisco, CA	Genesys Works GreenLight Fund	Genesys Works provides in-depth summer training in hard and soft skills, and year-long internships with major area employers to at-risk, economically disadvantaged students to help them get into and succeed in college and beyond. In contrast to most traditional high school internships that involve “job shadowing” and simple clerical work, Genesys Works’ year-long internships are deep touch, hands-on and practical during the students’ senior year. In addition to its unique program model, Genesys Works has also developed an innovative financial model with an estimated 75 percent of all program expenses afforded with earned income received from corporations for services students provide by year 3 of operations in a new community. While it has been proven that 86 percent of Genesys Works’ students persist beyond the first year of college, GreenLight’s SIF Initiative will determine its students’ persistence throughout college and other variables that impact student’s entry to the economic mainstream, which will provide important evidence to the field of college persistence and career readiness.
Sacramento, CA	State of California Harvard Kennedy School Government Performance Lab	The GPL is providing technical assistance to the Board of State and Community Corrections to assist counties pursuing Pay for Success in the areas anti-recidivism. The technical assistance will include the following: (1) assessing whether the proposed interventions produce the desired outcomes; (2) confirming that the likely outcomes satisfy cost-benefit principles; (3) developing an efficient and effective payment structure within a PFS model; (4) insuring that there are adequate service providers that can deliver the desired outcomes; and (5) establishing rigorous evaluation criteria and metrics to measure the initiative’s outcomes.
San Francisco, CA	Office of the Mayor, San Francisco Harvard Kennedy School Government Performance Lab	The GPL will work with the San Francisco Mayor’s Office to support a deeper assessment of how Pay for Success can improve outcomes for San Francisco’s high-needs populations. In particular, the GPL will support HOPE SF, the Mayor’s signature public-private partnership, which aims to break generational cycles of poverty, violence and isolation, and improve social and economic outcomes for public housing residents. A primary goal of the work with the GPL will be to conduct a feasibility analysis of proposed community-wide and specific target population strategies using the Pay for Success model. A Pay for Success model could help San Francisco ensure evidence based and outcomes-focused social service delivery, and better alignment of City funding and contracts and private sector funding to build stronger communities for public housing residents. The GPL-supported feasibility analysis will focus on five main aspects: (1) do the proposed interventions produce the desired outcomes, (2) do the realistic outcomes satisfy cost-benefit analysis, (3) what is a proper payment structure of a PFS transaction, (4) are there adequate organizations that can deliver the desired outcomes in San Francisco, and (5) what are the most rigorous evaluation strategies that can be used to measure the initiative’s outcomes.

Santa Ana, CA	Children and Families Commission of Orange County Institute for Child Success	Orange County proposes the Neighborhood Resource Network (NRN) program as a voluntary support structure connecting families to evidence-based family strengthening programs. The service providers involved in this intervention include Child Behavior Pathways, Child Guidance Center, Children’s Bureau, Help Me Grow Orange County, Human Options, Olive Crest, Orange County Child Abuse Prevention Center, and Western Youth Services. Children’s Home Society of California will act as the HUB that connects all service providers. Through evidence-based interventions such as Triple-P and Parent Child Interaction Therapy, Orange County’s NRN aims to reduce substantiated cases of child abuse, maltreatment, and neglect. The target population for this intervention is families with children ages 0-5 who have an initial Child Abuse Registry Report (CAR), or may be at-risk for one, but do not qualify for assistance from the Department of Social Services.
Santa Rosa, CA	County of Sonoma County, CA Institute for Child Success	ICS will work with the Sonoma County Department of Health Services to focus on improving the County’s community health and educational attainment outcomes. Through Universal Pre-K (UPK), the initiative hopes to expand access to high quality preschool (for a largely rural population) towards the end of reducing grade retention, absenteeism, and the need for special education. By expanding Nurse Family Partnership (NFP) programs, this initiative will explore outcomes such as reductions in child abuse and neglect, reductions in child arrests, and reductions in behavioral and intellectual problems at age 6. This program is innovative because it builds on several cross-sector efforts and because it serves a rural community. The Health Action Council – comprised of key government, private sector, and non-profit leaders in Sonoma County – has been working with Sonoma County Upstream Investments to build the community’s capacity to invest in prevention-focused, evidence-based solutions that eliminate disparities in health, education, and self-sufficiency. Through the partnership, Third Sector will create a PFS Contract Implementation Plan, an Evaluability Assessment, a high-level Integrated Economic Model, a cost-benefit analysis and budget, and Funder Interest Groups. Third Sector will also lead the identification of procurement options, will obtain, finalize, and analyze any relevant data linkages across government administrative data systems, and will propose relevant target population size and outcome metrics. ICS will identify viable service providers for the proposed PFS project, and also lead development and sharing of lessons learned with the national early childhood community. ICS will also help the service provider understand its capacity and organizational needs in order to scale up for a PFS project and will help the provider understand its cost structure and drivers.

San Jose, CA	Planned Parenthood Mar Monte Jobs for the Future (2015) OYIF	Kids in Common and its partners in the Opportunity Youth Partnership have three key strategies: 1) strengthen and expand reengagement options at the San Jose Conservation Corps and Charter School and the Santa Clara County Office of Education’s Reengagement Academy for high-risk opportunity youth including transition age foster youth, homeless youth, and court-involved youth; 2) co-locate Navigators at these sites to help remove barriers to engagement for youth transitioning out of foster care, homeless youth, and justice-involved youth, and to promote pathways with a clear connection to postsecondary education and careers; and 3) develop an employment coach position who will support young people to obtain internships and jobs through TeenForce, an innovative youth-focused employment agency. Partner agencies include community organizations experienced in working with foster youth, youth involved in the justice system, and other youth facing barriers to success. The Santa Clara partners expect that 70 percent of those served in these programs will be young men of color. Santa Clara partners will utilize collective impact to scale these strategies through aligning and integrating programs and systems to ensure that youth can get on track for academic and career success regardless of where they enter a pathway, and through expanding numbers served at core programs. For example, the Reengagement Academy currently serves 100 youth per year but will expand to up to 500 youth per year in three years.
San Rafael, CA	Bay Area Community Resources Jobs for the Future (2015) OYIF	The Bay Area Community Resources and its partners in the Road Map to Peace collaborative are providing education, workforce, and wraparound services to 18 to 24 year-old youth of color, in particular Latino males, who are gang-involved/violence-exposed. Outreach is conducted by youth leaders and through community organization partners and the justice system; reengaged youth enroll in Five Keys Charter School, a Sheriff’s Office sponsored state charter school that offers GED and diploma-granting programming, or the local Gateway to College program. Community-based organizations provide wraparound support and case management, as well as self-efficacy, violence prevention, and career/ employment readiness training, to the young people as they work toward their secondary credential and transition into postsecondary career training. Young people also participate in selected training programs that offer accelerated paths to credentials in “in demand” sectors. Core collaborative partners are also creating subsidized employment opportunities to help young people develop work readiness skills and get prepared for further or more structured technical training. Five Keys is a robust education option with locations at 21 sites across the city including in jails; through Five Keys and its state funding stream, the partners will be able to scale this carefully designed approach to ensure that youth transitioning from the criminal justice system persist toward a high school credential and into training leading to a credential with value in the labor market.
Chula Vista, CA	MAAC Local Initiatives Support Corporation (2015)	MAAC’s Bridges to Career Opportunities initiative connects neighborhood residents of the Greater Logan Heights Community to essential job readiness competencies, skills training and credentialing, and comprehensive supportive services. The program is innovative because of its connection to a community benefits agreement that was negotiated as part of the construction of Petco Park, a professional baseball stadium, in downtown San Diego. It represents an opportunity to assist residents of neighborhoods impacted by the construction of the ballpark. It also combines bridge, career pathway, and integrated services programming.

San Diego, CA	The International Rescue Committee Local Initiatives Support Corporation (2015)	The International Rescue Committee's Bridges to Career Opportunities Project combines sector-specific career pathway programs with an evidence-based model of integrated service delivery that includes employment and financial coaching, benefits screening and access to income supports, free tax preparation, and affordable loan products designed to accelerate family self-sufficiency. The program is innovative because it proposes to develop training to meet the needs of specific employers. This reflects the IRC's intensive engagement with employers such as Kaiser, Sharp, the Hilton, Cox Communications, and restaurants, and helps to ensure that the training is truly driven by employer demand.
San Diego, CA	The Children's Initiative National Council on Crime and Delinquency	The Children's Initiative in San Diego, CA provides support and monitoring to children's services through out the county. One of these programs, Alternative to Detention (ATD) is a San Diego County collaborative program that provides wraparound services to justice involved youth. ATD also provides detention alternatives to youth at risk of placement in secure detention, who do not present high-risk of flight or danger to the community. ATD is a collaborative effort of local San Diego government agencies and nonprofit organizations. Partners include: County of San Diego Public Safety Group, Probation Department, South Bay Community Services, Social Advocates for Youth (SAY) San Diego, San Diego Youth Services, North County Lifeline, Mental Health Systems, law enforcement agencies (such as County Police Departments and Sheriffs' departments), the District Attorney's office, Public Defender's office, juvenile courts, and the San Diego Association of Governments (SANDAG). ATD is a continuum of services provided to youth both pre- and post-adjudication that will help direct youth to a more positive pathway to a successful future. ATD services can be provided at multiple junctures in the justice process, and services are voluntary (unless part of a youth's informal probation requirements).
San Diego, CA	The San Diego Foundation National Council on Crime and Delinquency	NCCD will complete a comprehensive profile of young adults released from San Diego County Jail and at high risk of recidivating to identify primary unmet needs. In conjunction with target population description, a service array analysis will be completed to determine gaps in current service array and/or capacity, as well as providers aptitude and interest in potential expansion. The pre-feasibility assessment will provide suggested evidence based or promising interventions (in jail and in community) to better meet the needs of young adults at high risk of recidivating.
San Jose, CA	Santa Clara County Nonprofit Finance Fund	The County of Santa Clara, California will work to launch a Pay for Success project serving at least 250 individuals who are frequent users of the County's emergency and inpatient psychiatric services. Telecare Corporation will deliver a combination of behavioral health, care coordination and supportive social services in community-based settings, with the goal of improving participants' wellness and reducing costly hospitalizations.
Los Angeles, CA	Chrysalis REDF (2015)	Chrysalis is a nonprofit organization dedicated to creating a pathway to self-sufficiency for homeless and low-income individuals by providing the resources and support needed to find and retain employment. Since 1991, Chrysalis has offered paid, transitional jobs through its two, in-house social enterprise businesses: Chrysalis Works, a street maintenance company, provides experience in trash and recycling pick-up, landscaping, weed abatement, graffiti removal, hauling, and street sweeping; Chrysalis Staffing is a temporary staffing business providing employee sourcing, pre-employment training, and payroll processing across a variety of industries.

San Francisco, CA	Juma Ventures REDF (2015)	Based out of San Francisco with locations in Oakland, Santa Clara, and multiple states, CA, Juma Ventures is a national social enterprise serving at-risk youth that provides employment opportunities in sports and entertainment venues. Juma strives to break the cycle of poverty by paving the way to work, education, and financial capability for youth across America. They believe that the world's greatest social service is a job. A Juma job socially engages youth and teaches them leadership skills while building confidence for a successful career, working as a launching pad to the real world. Juma's model combines employment, financial education and savings, and professional skills coaching.
San Jose, CA	Goodwill of Silicon Valley REDF (2015)	Goodwill of Silicon Valley was established in Santa Clara County in 1926, to move individuals and families from poverty to prosperity (over 20,000 to date). GWSV is part of Goodwill Industries International, a federation of over 200 autonomous Goodwill organizations worldwide. Goodwill's primary activities to date have created a successful social enterprise model, creating opportunities for low-income individuals with a variety of compounding challenges to gain skills and receive the support services necessary to achieve self-sufficiency. REDF and GWSV will work together to further strengthen GWSV's existing social enterprises and support services for its social enterprise employees.
San Rafael, CA	Conservation Corps North Bay REDF (2015)	Conservation Corps North Bay (CCNB) works to develop youth and conserve natural resources for a strong, sustainable community. Conservation Corps North Bay was founded in 1982 as the first local Conservation Corps. CCNB works with opportunity youth, many of whom are gang-involved, to help them explore environmental career pathways, as well as gain a broader understanding of their impact on the environment and on their community. CCNB has helped nearly 10,000 young men and women break the cycle of poverty through education and job skills, while serving the environment and community in Conservation Corps North Bay Conservation Services

Oakland, CA	Reading Partners The Edna McConnell Clark Foundation	Reading Partners helps elementary school students who are six to 30 months behind in reading catch up to their peers and become proficient. In 2014-2015, RP continued its strong growth trajectory, serving over 8,200 youth in FY15 and adding two new sites in Seattle. With its positive evaluation results released, RP continued to raise awareness toward reading proficiently by 4th grade and closing the proficiency gap by meeting with K-4 policy experts, researchers, local governments, and members of Congress. RP also chose Tulsa and DC as its first "LIFT 10 regions," where it will launch a multi-year collaborative effort to increase reading proficiency rates by 10 percent.

San Diego, CA	San Diego Workforce Partnership Third Sector Capital Partners	The San Diego Workforce Partnership will explore how P4P can improve education, employment, and recidivism outcomes for youth involved in the juvenile justice system, and is willing to stand as a model to other California counties interested in outcomes-based payments in the public sector.
Pomona, CA	Pomona School District University of Utah Sorenson Impact Center	PUSD is the third largest school district in Los Angeles County and serves 25,000 students in 41 schools in Pomona and Diamond Bar, California, thirty miles east of downtown Los Angeles. The student population is 85% Hispanic, 83% low-income (subsidized meals), and 36% ESL learners. The long-term goals for the District are to increase graduation rates and college-readiness and create a Pre-K to Community College pipeline in Pomona. In addressing the loss of 20% of feeder preschool slots, rather than plan for the failure of these future students, PUSD has chosen to focus on innovative solutions like PFS to sustain and scale the LAUP program. The PUSD is already working with a service provider, Los Angeles Universal Preschool (LAUP), on early development of the PFS program and on integration of a quality ratings and improvement system (QRIS) for each PUAD preschool site. LAUP won a competitively bid State contract, and an independent 3rd party evaluator indicated that early evidence suggests that LAUP students out-perform their peers. LAUP's original cohort of students are now in 9th grade.
